CALIFORNIA

Incorporated in 1874, Wheatland has both a rich history and a bright future. Wheatland is one of only two incorporated cities in Yuba County and is located just south of Beale Air Force Base. It is nestled at the north-eastern edge of California's vast Sacramento Valley. Located 34 miles north of Sacramento, Wheatland is ideal for businesses doing business with both the State and Federal government or those requiring easy access to International air travel.

Wheatland is a great place to live, work and play and continues to be valued by its residents for its small town atmosphere and rural setting.

Opportunities in Wheatland

Wheatland has six proposed development areas of varying sizes in and around the city.

The 4,150 acre Johnson Rancho/Hop Farm, which was annexed in 2014, has the capacity for 13,300 single-family housing units, 556 multi-family units, 500 dwelling units within non-residential land uses, 574 acres zoned for commercial, employment, schools, civic center and parks. It includes two distinct Commercial Districts.

Caliterra Ranch (formerly known as Jones Ranch) is 191 acres with capacity for 552 single-family units. It has 19 acres zoned for commercial development, parks and public areas.

Heritage Oaks Estates–East is 175 acres and has the capacity for 490 single-family units, 108 multi-family units and has 37.5 acres set aside for commercial, self-storage and park/open spaces.

Heritage Oaks Estates–West is 58 acres and is zoned for 170 single-family units.

Nichols Grove is 485 acres with 11.5 acres for mixed use commercial and is zoned for up to 1,624 single-family units, 91 multi-family units and 117.2 acres of park/open space.

Rodden Ranch is 98 acres and is zoned for 37 single-family units.

Additional commercial and industrial opportunities along the Hwy 65 corridor provide exposure and access to nearly 20,000 cars per day. With 30,000 retirees living in the region, a trained workforce is readily available, making Wheatland a great place to start and grow a business.
